

DECLARATION OF FINANCES

(This form may be completed after you have been accepted)

Who should fill out this form?

All students who are not U.S. citizens or permanent residents of the U.S must complete this form.

What is it?

This document is to verify that you have sufficient funds to meet tuition and living expenses while studying in the United States. This financial assurance is required in order for the California Institute of the Arts to issue you the Certificate of Eligibility (form I-20AB). Once you are accepted and have provided official verification of funds, the International Student Advisor at the California Institute of the Arts will issue you the Certificate of Eligibility (form I-20AB) to support your application for a student (F-1) visa. The U.S. Consular and/or the U.S Bureau of Citizenship and Immigration Services will require you to show the Certificate of Eligibility (form I-20AB) upon application for a student (F-1) visa and/or entry to the U.S.

How much should I declare?

The total amount to be declared must exceed the amount listed on the attached International Student Expenses Budget. This figure is the estimated amount you will need to spend for one academic year at CalArts. Each figure you declare on the Declaration of Finances form must be supported with one of the following proofs of support:

1. A bank statement from you and/or your sponsor showing an amount which is in excess of the required amount. Consular officers will not consider a bank statement showing just the amount required as convincing evidence of support.
2. A letter from a bank or other financial institution indicating the dollar amount that you and/or your sponsor have available for the first year of your education. Once again, this amount must be in excess of the amount shown on the International Student Expenses Budget. A statement from a bank indicating that you and/or your sponsor have “enough money” to provide support is not acceptable. If you or your sponsor wish to keep a bank balance or income private, we will accept official documents stating that the amount is “more than” a figure, which is clearly sufficient.
3. Proof of salary of you or your sponsor should be on the employer’s letterhead, on income tax returns or receipts, or estimated by a bank or private accountant when you or your sponsor is self-employed. The income of the company or organization at which one is employed is not the income of the employee or owner and will not be accepted as proof of income.

What is the Affidavit of Sponsor?

If you will be supported by someone other than yourself or an immediate family member, your sponsor must fill out the Affidavit of Sponsor. In this case, you must submit both the Affidavit of Sponsor and the Declaration of Finances form.

What about scholarships?

Scholarships from governments or other institutions are an acceptable proof of available funds, as are bank or government educational loans. Proof of this type of funding should be in the form of a letter from the organization stating the amount of money to be given and the period of time for which this funding will be provided.
